Dear Tony,

I've already arranged the children's travel and you did not comply with it. My arrangement was in compliance with any of the Saginaw County Court Orders, past and present you wanted to compare it to. In addition, my arrangement was also in compliance with the guidelines of the airlines, who would have never would have put them on the plane if they thought a chance of diversion was an option. I did my job as a responsible parent and you chose to honor it. Like I told the children, you made a mistake and now you have to figure out how to fix it. Let me know how you plan to solve this problem.

As far as Amelia being frightened of the plane, it was your job as a parent to give her coping skills to deal with her fear as well as build up her strength. Instead you fostered her fear in order to use her as a tool in your agenda. You are a sick, sick man and the children will eventually figure it on their own, if they aren't already.

Good feedback from Mia's teacher. Am working on spelling with Rocco. I will send back some of the fun spelling card games with Rocco.

I hope you will be open to some constructive steps arranging for the children's travel.
Otherwise, the children are great here.

That is great. Yesterday and today have been snow days for us so we actually haven't been back to school yet. Guide her to put a finger space between words and only use a capital letter at the beginning of her sentences. Let her continue to sound the words out though.

Thanks,

Brandy

Hi Ms. Senkowski,

Here is a scan of what Mia is working on. I will do a better job on my next scan so that it doesn't cut off the letters.

Please keep me posted on assignments. Otherwise we will just continue with this exercise.

Thanks,

Having her practice reading as much as possible would be a big help. Also having her illustrate a picture and write a sentence about the picture.

Hi Ms. Senkowski,

Due to a breakdown in logistics, Mia and her brother (Rocco) are still in Maryland with me (their father). I will keep you informed on further development.

In the meantime, are there specific items I could work with Mia on to help her have a successful 2nd Trimester?

Thank you,

Tony
